Would you like to join an oral history project which brings young and old together from across the city for fun and good conversation?

You'll meet up once a week in a friendly, facilitated group to explore objects and photos from the museum collection and share your memories of Salisbury and beyond.

Course dates and venue:

Tuesday or Wednesday 1hr sessions from the end of October to December 2025 – at a central Salisbury venue.

How do I get involved?

Participants can take part individually, or as part of an established group. Please get in touch with the Community Curator to express your interest.

Access:

Venues will be accessible to all. No special knowledge is necessary and there is no maximum age limit. Funding can be provided to help with any transport costs. Refreshments included.
